Professional Summary

A dynamic, results-driven, and forward-thinking finance and audit professional with a deep and multidimensional understanding of accounting, finance, taxation, internal and external auditing, and IT integration. With an experience spanning more than 6 years, I have played a pivotal role in the financial and strategic growth of several organizations through my work in audit, compliance, financial management, and reporting.

Currently pursuing Chartered Accountancy (CA) at the prestigious Institute of Chartered Accountants of Nepal (ICAN), Sadobato, Lalitpur, I am driven by a desire to continually expand my knowledge base and adapt to emerging trends in finance and technology. My career journey has been built on a foundation of integrity, discipline, curiosity, and innovation. I thrive in high-pressure environments, where my problem-solving skills, attention to detail, and ability to lead cross-functional teams are fully utilized.

My professional path has allowed me to specialize in both internal and external audits, working with organizations across various sectors including manufacturing, logistics, trading, and service-based industries. I have a comprehensive understanding of Nepal's taxation system, including VAT and TDS compliance, and I have consistently demonstrated the ability to navigate complex regulatory landscapes.

In parallel, I am also a digital enthusiast with a growing interest in digital marketing, web development, and data analytics. My hands-on exposure to digital tools such as WordPress, Laravel, SEO, Google Ads, and Python programming bridges the gap between traditional finance and the digital ecosystem, allowing me to deliver insights that are data-driven, precise, and impactful.

I envision myself contributing to organizations that are looking to digitally transform their financial operations, automate systems, and integrate marketing strategies with business intelligence. My commitment to learning and innovation, paired with a robust track record of performance, makes me an ideal candidate for both finance and digitally inclined roles.

Career Objective

To leverage my strong foundation in accounting, finance, and auditing, coupled with my enthusiasm for digital transformation, to deliver value to progressive organizations. My goal is to be at the forefront of financial technology, utilizing tools from both the finance and IT worlds to build data-informed strategies, enhance compliance, optimize resource allocation, and fuel digital marketing innovations.

I aspire to join a team where I can lead with insight, automate with precision, analyze with clarity, and market with creativity. I am looking for long-term opportunities that challenge me, inspire growth, and align with my passion for combining finance, technology, and digital strategy.
